In a series of tweets on Sunday, Donald Trump criticized reports that the U.S. military killed dozens of Iranian-backed fighters in Iraq on Saturday. “The Fake News Media doesn’t report the truth like they used to. “Our military has not fired a shot in anger during the Trump Administration. “After months of fighting ISIS, al-Qaeda, [and] Syria, do the Democrats now own the failure of the war in the Middle East?” he wrote. “Now, Iran is openly fighting ISIS, while our incompetent President watches. “Can you believe that he is in such a dang ruinous war that he doesn’t know who the enemy is? How stupid!” The Fake News Media doesn’t report the truth like they used to. Our military has not fired a shot in anger during the Trump Administration. After months of fighting ISIS, al-Qaeda, Syria, do the Democrats now own the failure of the war in the Middle East? Now, Iran is openly fighting ISIS, while our incompetent President watches. Can you believe that he is in such a dang ruinous war that he doesn’t know who the enemy is? How stupid! — Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) May 11, 2019 The U.S. Defense Department confirmed the reported Saturday afternoon airstrike against ISIS during a press conference at Joint Base Anacostia-Bolling in Washington D.C. “We can confirm that multiple air strikes conducted overnight and into today struck ISIS tactical units and equipment in Syria. The strikes were conducted by both the U.S. and our international coalition allies,” Col. Robert Manning told reporters.
