I have a data (a vector) with several element. I want to find all the past events (events are position). I have a function as follow: if i == 2 begin past_events(data) print(data[1]) end end The output is an empty data set. So, I want to find the past events and print them. In the way that I find the past events, we can call this method with other data (a new vector). With the loop: function past_events(data) for i in 1:length(data) if i > 2 begin print(data
