You can create a hot file cache quickly by creating and copying a number of images and CSS files in the Image Cache directory. * Caches . Oct 3, 2014 Alright, that fixes the issues with the CSS on the site. However, I believe I have another potential bug because I'm trying to make the design on the background of my page rather than having it with the body. . Update: I have made the background of the page solid white, and the text black. Again, the text is clearly visible on black, which means that I am either having trouble with something outside the designer, or something with the designer. Can anyone give me some insight on what to look for? Edit: After further research, I realized that the designer was not correctly applied to the page. . Oct 7, 2014 So I started with an empty page. Then I copied and pasted the tutorial onto the code and changed the source url for the background color to be black. Well after completing the tutorial, I went to my. I would like to make a tool that makes the setup for PHP cPanel (automatically) and access this to use for different cPanel users. . I will work on this as soon as possible, I have to get home to do this. The image are not displaying correctly. . Oct 7, 2014 This is a small mockup on how my site would look, even though it's still not finished. Thanks for the tip! . Oct 7, 2014 It
