

Fifa 22

During a real-life high-intensity match, everything is in motion: direction, pace, speed, acceleration, distance covered, movement and action on the ball, among other factors. The motion-capture data is then used to create every action or movement of the players. All 22 players in motion capture suits are playing out their part of the match as part of a team and their collective actions, movements and reactions are recorded and used in a real-life environment to drive gameplay. Dramatic "Scene Changes," real-life player animation, goal celebrations and more dynamic lighting and atmosphere are part of the FIFA Football experience. With the introduction of HyperMotion Technology into the game, the game environment is now more realistic and dynamic, making the match an experience that feels more like the real thing. Added Animation and More Dynamic Action A major part of the "Living the Game" Philosophy is the ability to create more accurate and intuitive player animations. The players are able to make more authentic cuts, changes of direction and sprints. New to FIFA 22 are more realistic collisions, more exaggerated "drip tape" overlays and greater freedom of movement for the players. The players also have more dynamic reactions to the ball and can make more precise decisions to split open crowded defence or power past a more-frequently-idle goalkeeper. Features Include: The Shooting Star: A one-player, one-goal game mechanic that allows for more opportunities and a more exciting and realistic feel. WEAPONS, SIGNATURE MOMENTS & FEATURES NEW Balancing Tweaks: EA's biggest change since launch is our approach to the ball, ball speed and acceleration. Now a wider array of dynamic change allows players to control the air with more freedom, and the resulting greater skill and intelligence in the game is what makes FIFA feel even more authentic. Ball Intelligence: Ball intelligence is tuned to create a more responsive ball that has greater ease of control with a slower touch for precision, and the ability to control the spin and change in both touch and release to provide more control and freedom for players. Sprinting: The game will support full sprinting at every skill level, allowing you to have complete control of your movements in addition to improved ball control and agility. Player Intelligence: AI and soccer understanding is tuned to give players more freedom and expressiveness. Player awareness is improved and positional play is increased as the intelligence of the player models increases. Magic Circles: Advanced physics engine makes every player look like they are controlling the ball with real physical integrity. Move the player and the ball with more responsiveness and accuracy, and feel the weight of the ball as if you've got a real, live soccer ball in your hands. Player Movement: AI is improved to increase the intelligence of the players' body mechanics as they move the player's body in accordance to the angle, velocity, force and weight of the shot. Increased player intelligence and responsiveness allows for more player options. Player Collisions: A new set of collision mechanics are tuned to give you more control and freedom in real-time during player-on-player collisions, allowing for less separation when
