Q: Is it possible to use
R.drawable.yourappiconfor drawing a Layout and apply a different Color to it? I wanted to get the CustomView of my xml and apply a different color than the default color. Is it possible? When I try this, it isn't applied to the the Layout. CustomView custom_view= new CustomView(this);
custom_view.setBackgroundColor(Color.WHITE); setContentView(custom_view); It is possible to apply the Color to the Layout and get the same Layout's background back for the other Layout? How? A: Consider setting styleable attrs on your view. custom_view.setLayoutParams(new LayoutParams(LayoutParams.MATCH_PARENT, LayoutParams.MATCH_PARENT)); Then you can have a class that extend a theme, and apply it to all views.
@color/colorAccent Now in your code:
custom_view.setTheme(R.style.AppTheme); 1. Field of the Q: how to modify the size of the columns in a gridview? I have a GridView with 10 columns and every column size is fixed. I need to modify the size of the columns and give a background colour to them instead of font colour. Is there any way to do this? A: You can add the additional columns programmatically and change the Textcolor, Width, Height attributes. For example, if you add four more columns as below, protected void GridView1_RowDataBound(object sender, GridViewRowEventArgs e) { var row = e.Row; if (row.RowType == DataControlRowType.DataRow) { for (var i = 0; i
