Jaïdi served from 2009 to 2010 as the representative of the central committee of the conservative Islamic Iran Participation Front in the government of President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad. Career Jaïdi was a member of the Iran's foreign ministry, and later an adviser to Ahmadinejad for foreign affairs. Jaïdi was also a presidential candidate for Iran's highest office after the 2012 Iranian presidential election. After the election defeat of President Ahmadinejad, Jaïdi was sacked by Ahmadinejad, which was most likely done to avoid Jaïdi from becoming a presidential candidate in the following election. Jaïdi held the position of

It is a generic term, sometimes occurring as a name (as in the case of "Kabaralagal"), or as a modern euphemism for the territory they inhabit, and indigenous Australian communities have a number of different terms for the territory, including bora, jungle, box-gum and goonigal. In the Australian language of Warlpiri, Kaberoo and kavabroog are akin to the noun "country" and "land", while the term for these territories "abroog" comes from the verb for country "abrogi". Abrogi is also a term used to refer to the area around the Ngarigu, a sacred site for the Warlpiri people. It appears to have been in common use among the Wur

Access to the clipboard this claim because that argument would require a determination whether the FAA regulations require the operator of an unmanned aircraft to have a current operator's license. That issue is not before us. A claim that the FAA is arbitrary and capricious by failing to recognize that the operator of an unmanned aircraft is an "aircraft pilot" under FAA regulations is an argument that the FAA's policy is inconsistent with the FAA's own regulations. We review such claims under the standards set forth in the APA. See 42 U.S.C. § 46110(c); see also Jova Coal Co. v. FAA, 822 F.3d 1098, 1102 (D.C. Cir. 2016). We therefore vacate the FAA's February 15, 2012, Order. 3 FILED
