The newest version, AutoCAD 2019, was launched on November 15, 2018. A few days later, an official open beta version became available for beta testing. This is an old AutoCAD tutorial on making a circle. Some AutoCAD tips and tricks will be added in coming days. AutoCAD is a commercial CAD software application for 2D drafting and related 2D vector graphics. It is developed and marketed by Autodesk. It was released in December 1982 as a desktop app running on microcomputers with internal graphics controllers. Before AutoCAD was introduced, most commercial CAD programs ran on mainframe computers or minicomputers, with each CAD operator (user) working at a separate graphics terminal. AutoCAD is also available as mobile and web apps. For the mobile app, Apple users need to download the app to their iPhones/iPads, and use the iOS app store to search for and install the AutoCAD app. AutoCAD 2019 is a new release of AutoCAD. With it, Autodesk is introducing a lot of new features. This has been its new release every year for the last few years. The top features of AutoCAD 2019 You may want to upgrade your existing AutoCAD from an older version to the latest release. So how do you do that? First of all, you need to download the latest AutoCAD 2019 software. You can download a trial version of AutoCAD 2019, or purchase the latest Autodesk Student, Pro or Architect editions. The trial version of AutoCAD 2019 is available for free, and the student and pro editions are available for 30 days at a discounted price. The architect edition is priced based on a license plan. See the official Autodesk website for more information. If you already have an existing AutoCAD installation, you can either upgrade to the latest version or install the new version side-by-side. To upgrade your AutoCAD from an older version to AutoCAD 2019, you need to download and install the new version. It will replace all the older files in your AutoCAD installation directory, along with the new installation configuration files and settings. To perform an upgrade from the previous version, you must first stop AutoCAD and disconnect the current machine from the network. You must then uninstall the existing AutoCAD
