What's new in Tiger Fighter 1931 Tora!Tora!Tora! MP058:

::Chennou Gali:: Hello! I am new user of anime and manga, and could you tell me what is CG or what kind of genre this anime is? I have tried to find out by myself, but somehow, it seems nobody used to give the right meaning to that word. What I find when searching about this anime on the web is that it looks like a mother in law of Gundam. Anyhow, I might have felt sad with the story and want to add it here for reference. I am 6 years old. I read fantasy stories online, but it's anime. Chennou Gali starts off as a direct clone of the customisable mobile phone called the Yu Yu Hakusho. While you play as Gum (protagonist), you repair amulets with mystical power that you find after defeating the opponents that you fight. In this game, you engage in fights in a frozen-jam over the internet. Over time, you'll receive new amulets with more powerful attack. Just like that one with a big mishmash of all time favorite characters, and give them their own powers and such, but update their forms and make them able to defeat you all-the-way more easily, from what I hear. The only differences is you play on a mobile device, while these over the counter boys fight on land vehicles, and you can visit a massive and colossal world, while they don't even bother with that, and instead of fighting in a Castle or something, you fight in a virtual world over internet. Chennou Gali is a game, and the plot is on one of the gaming forums as a suggestion. The fans (fansub) translate it over to English. While they regularly do that, the game is never finished, and you can't tell when or if one will ever come out. Thus, this is the closest anime you can get to it since they have stopped doing it all together. Chennou Gali (CG) is a game, based on a manga of the same name. Wikipedia even gave part of the plot line and Wikipedia said is kind of like Kamen Rider Den-O. (After that page, and a few others, I am unable to find any further information regarding the game. The protagonist, Gum, has a magical racecar, called Gali. Gum makes the world of Chennou Gali in the CG
