Apoptosis induction by hypertonic saline, mannitol and other osmotic agents. The mechanism by which hyperosmolar agents cause apoptosis is not well established. Therefore, we studied the ability of hyperosmolar agents to activate caspase-3 and induce apoptosis in cells of the central nervous system, in cells of the immune system, and in lung epithelial cells. The in vivo relevance was investigated by measuring the brain edema in a rat model of cerebral stroke. We found that hyperosmolar agents, but not normal isotonic saline (0.15 M), can induce apoptosis. Exposure to NaCl, mannitol, glucose or mannose showed that glucose and mannose are as effective as NaCl. NaCl-induced apoptosis was inhibited by mannitol, allantoin or 2-acetylthiazole. NaCl increased caspase-3 activity in cerebellum extracts of rats. This was abolished by NaCl pretreatment with mannitol or allantoin. Treatment of thrombin-activated platelets with mannitol increased caspase-3 activity. These results indicate that hyperosmotic agents induce apoptosis and validate the in vivo relevance of apoptotic cells in brain edema. Hyperosmotic agents activate caspase-3 in platelets and in the brain, but other mechanisms of hyperosmolar agent-induced apoptosis may contribute to tissue damage.Q: Nested tables in js I have a HTML form with two inputs and two buttons. When I click the first button, it should send 1 row of data to the database, with the database sent as a nested table. When I click the second button, the same data should be sent to the database as another nested table. I have already created a nested table, and I'm still trying to get it to nest. I started off with this: 79a2804d6b
